General information

Stats SA publishes approximately 300 different statistical releases each year. It is not economically viable to produce them in more than one of South Africa's official languages. Since the releases are used extensively, not only locally but also by international economic and social-scientific communities, Stats SA releases are published in English only.

Stats SA has copyright on this publication. Users may apply the information as they wish, provided that they acknowledge Stats SA as the source of the basic data wherever they process, apply, utilise, publish or distribute the data; and also that they specify that the relevant application and analysis (where applicable) result from their own processing of the data.

Domestic Tourism Survey 2022

The Domestic Tourism Survey 2022 data are in two files. The files are flat, ASCII, fixed field files, with one line of given length per record. This format was chosen so as to make the data usable with as many statistical programs as possible, and thus accessible to as wide a range of people.

Users can also access, explore and download the microdata in various formats, i.e. SAS, SPSS, Stata, etc. Users can access the metadata from StatsOnline at www.statssa.gov.za.

Other important information for users is found in the:

- Questionnaire
- Relevant publications
- Website (www.statssa.gov.za)

Data files

The files and the corresponding sections of the questionnaire are as follows:

Daytrips:	Data from Cover and Sections 1 to 2
Overnighttrips:	Data from Cover and Sections 3 to 5

The files also contain some derived variables.

The information in each file contains the following:

- Nature of records in the file and population covered
- Description of variables

Description of variables

The description of the variables comprises the following information:

Descriptive name: This is a short English description plus the variable name in the original file used by Stats SA to construct the ASCII file.

Position of the variable: The position of the data within the record, recorded in the format (@xxx y). '@xxx' indicates that the data begins at position (i.e. column) xxx and 'y' indicates that it is y digits wide. All data is numeric. All data is right justified.

Source: This is either the question in the questionnaire or, for derived variables, the method of derivation. Derived variables are usually found towards the end of a file.

Valid range: The range of valid values for the variable. For continuous variables this reflects the upper and lower limits as found in the data.

Not applicable: The code for 'not applicable' is provided for each variable. These are now numeric.

Missing value: A code for 'missing/unspecified' values is given for each variable.

Notes: Specific observations to be noted by users.

Most questions in the Domestic Tourism Survey questionnaire are pre-coded, i.e. there is a set number of choices from which one or more must be selected. For open-ended 'write-in' questions, the description will state that post-coding occurred and explain how this was done. Most variables have been pre-coded from the questionnaire and are not repeated in the variable description. Where the coding is not apparent, the description either provides the codes or indicates where code lists are to be found.

Linking files

The data from different files can be linked on the basis of a record identifier. The record identifier is the first field/s in each file. Each record contains a number (UqNo), which constitutes a unique household identifier. All records with a given unique household identifier, no matter which file they are in, belong to the same household. For individuals, a further two digits constitute the Person number (PersonNo). When these are added to the unique household identifier, a unique individual identifier is created. Again, these can be used to link records from the respective files.

Target population

The target population of the survey consists of all private households in all nine provinces of South Africa and residents in workers' hostels. The survey does not cover other collective living quarters such as students' hostels, old-age homes, hospitals, prisons and military barracks, and is therefore only representative of non-institutionalised and non-military persons or households in South Africa.

A. Sample design of the DTS 2022

The sample design for the DTS 2022 was based on a Master Sample (MS) that was originally designed for the QLFS. This Master Sample is shared by the Quarterly Labour Force Survey (QLFS), General Household Survey (GHS), Living Conditions Survey (LCS), Domestic Tourism Survey (DTS), Income and Expenditure Survey (IES), and Victims of Crime Survey (VOCS).

The Master Sample used a two-staged, stratified design with probability-proportional-to-size (PPS) sampling of PSUs from within strata, and systematic sampling of dwelling units (DUs) from the sampled primary sampling units (PSUs). A self-weighting design at provincial level was used. Stratification was done in two stages: Primary stratification was defined by metropolitan and non-metropolitan geographic area type. During secondary stratification, the Census 2001 data were summarised at PSU level. The following variables were used for secondary stratification: household size, education, occupancy status, gender, industry and income.

Census enumeration areas (EAs) as delineated for Census 2001 formed the basis of the PSUs. The following additional rules were used:

- Where possible, PSU sizes were kept between 100 and 500 dwelling units (DUs);
- EAs with fewer than 25 DUs were excluded;
- EAs with between 26 and 99 DUs were pooled to form larger PSUs and the criteria used was 'same settlement type';
- Virtual splits were applied to large PSUs: 500 to 999 split into two; 1 000 to 1 499 split into three; and 1 500 plus split into four PSUs; and
- Informal PSUs were segmented.

A randomised probability-proportional-to-size (RPPS) systematic sample of PSUs was drawn in each stratum, with the measure of size being the number of households in the PSU. Altogether, approximately 3 080 PSUs were selected. In each selected PSU, a systematic sample of this particular report deals with the data that were collected from January 2022 to March 2023. Given that a three-month recall period is used, the data of DTS 2023 January to March had to be included to fully construct the October, November and December 2022 datasets. The DTS 2022 was based on the new Master Sample that was developed after Census 2011.

B. Sample design of the DTS 2023 Quarter 1

One of the objectives of the DTS is to obtain the estimates that indicate the tourism contribution toward the South African economy. However, this can be obtained by calculating estimates within the calendar year. Due to the rolling three-month recall period, there was a need to supplement the DTS 2022 data with the DTS 2023 Quarter 1 data. This first quarter of the DTS 2023 contains data from the trips undertaken in October, November and December 2022.

Allocating sample sizes to strata<sup>1</sup>

The randomised PPS systematic sampling method is described below. This procedure was applied independently within each design stratum.

Let  $N$  be the total number of PSUs in the stratum, and the number of PSUs to be selected from the stratum is denoted by  $n$ . Also, let  $x_i$  denote the size measure of the PSU  $i$  within the stratum, where  $i = 1, 2, 3, \dots, N$ . Then, the method for selecting the sample of  $n$  PSUs with the Randomised PPS systematic sampling method can be described as follows:

Step 1: Randomise the PSUs within the stratum

The list of  $N$  PSUs within the stratum can be randomised by generating uniform random between 0 and 1, and then by sorting the  $N$  PSUs in ascending or descending order of these random numbers. Once the PSUs have been randomised, we can generate permanent sequence numbers for the PSUs.

Step 2: Define normalised measures of size for the PSUs

We denote by  $x_i$  the measure of size (MOS) of PSU  $i$  within the design stratum. Then, the measure of size for the stratum is given by  $X = \sum_{i=1}^N x_i$ . We define the normalised size measure  $p_i$  of PSU  $i$  as  $p_i = x_i / X$ ;  $i = 1, 2, 3, \dots, N$ , where  $N$  is the total number of PSUs in the design stratum. Then,  $p_i$  is the relative size of the PSU  $i$  in the stratum, and  $\sum_{i=1}^N p_i = 1$  for all strata.

It should be noted that the value of  $n \times p_i$ , which is the selection probability of PSU  $i$  must be less than one.

Step 3: Obtain inverse sampling rates (ISRs)

Let  $R$  be the stratum inverse sampling rate (ISR). The stratum ISR is the same as the corresponding provincial ISR, because of the proportional allocation within the province.

It should also be noted that the proportional allocation within the province also results in a self-weighting design.

Then, the PSU inverse sampling rates (ISRs) are obtained as follows:

First, define  $N$  real numbers  $Z_i = n \times p_i \times R$ ;  $i = 1, 2, 3, \dots, N$ . It is easy to verify that  $\sum_{i=1}^N Z_i = n \times R$ . Next, round the  $N$  real numbers  $Z_i$ ;  $i = 1, 2, 3, \dots, N$  to integer values  $R_i$ ;  $i = 1, 2, 3, \dots, N$  such that each  $R_i$  is as close as possible to the corresponding  $Z_i$  value and the  $R_i$  values add up to  $n \times R$  within the stratum. In other words, the sum of the absolute differences between the  $R_i$  and the corresponding  $Z_i$  values is minimised subject to the constraint that the  $R_i$  values add up to  $n \times R$  within the stratum. Drew, Choudhry and Gray (1978) provide a simple algorithm to obtain the integer  $R_i$  values as follows:

Let " $d$ " be the difference between the value  $n \times R$  and the sum  $S = \sum_{i=1}^N [Z_i]$ , where  $[.]$  is the integer function, then  $R_i$  values can be obtained by rounding up the " $d$ "  $Z_i$  values with the largest fraction parts, and by rounding down the remaining  $(N - d)$  of them.

It should be noted that the integer sizes  $R_i; i = 1, 2, 3, \dots, N$  are also the PSU inverse sampling rates (ISRs) for systematic sampling of dwelling units.

Step 4: Obtain cumulative ISR values

We denote by  $C_i; i = 1, 2, 3, \dots, N$  the cumulative ISRs of the PSUs within the stratum. It should be noted that the PSUs within the stratum have been sorted according to the sequence numbers that were assigned after the randomisation. Then, the cumulative ISRs are defined as follows:

$$C_1 = R_1,$$

$$C_j = C_{(j-1)} + R_j; \quad j = 2, 3, \dots, N.$$

It should be noted that the value  $C_N$  will be equal to  $n \times R$ , which is also the total number of systematic samples of dwelling units that can be selected from the stratum.

Step 5: Generate an integer random number  $r$  between 1 and  $R$ , and compute  $n$  integers  $r_1, r_2, \dots, r_n$  as follows:

$$r_1 = r$$

$$r_2 = r_1 + R$$

$$r_3 = r_2 + R$$

$$\cdot$$

$$\cdot$$

$$r_i = r_{(i-1)} + R$$

$$\cdot$$

$$\cdot$$

$$r_n = r_{(n-1)} + R.$$

Step 6: Select  $n$  PSUs out of the  $N$  PSUs in the stratum with the labels (sequence numbers) number  $i_1, i_2, \dots, i_n$  such that:

$$C_{i_1-1} < r_1 \leq C_{i_1}$$

$$C_{i_2-1} < r_2 \leq C_{i_2}$$

$$\cdot$$

$$\cdot$$

$$C_{i_n-1} < r_n \leq C_{i_n}.$$

Then, the  $n$  PSUs with the labels  $i_1, i_2, \dots, i_n$  would get selected with probabilities proportional to size, and the selection probability of the PSU  $i$  will be given by  $\frac{R_i}{R}$ .

Weighting

DTS 2022 was collected continuously, based on a rolling three-month recall period. This meant that to reconstruct travel for the period January to December 2022, the data from the 2022 DTS and the DTS 2023 January to March collection were used to create the final data set. Thus 14 survey months from February 2022 to March 2023 were used to create the 12 monthly data files for the calendar year 2022. The sampling weights were then constructed for the 12 reference months. These included both full sample and replicate weights for each of the 12 reference months. The full sample and replicate weights were calibrated using the population control totals for the cells defined by the cross-classification Age-Group x Population-Group x Gender at the national level, and broad Age-Groups at the province level. These are the same population control totals that are used for constructing the calibrated weights for the Quarterly Labour Force Survey and the other household surveys. The weighted monthly data files can be combined to produce annual and bi-annual estimates with the WESVAR software.

Sampling and the interpretation of the data

Caution must be exercised when interpreting the results of the DTS at low levels of dis-aggregation. Revisions to the DTS data sets based on the new population estimates involved benchmarking at national level in terms of age, sex and population group while at provincial level, benchmarking was by population group only. The sample and reporting are based on the provincial boundaries as defined in December 2005. The DTS 2022 data was collected from January to December 2022 and therefore takes seasonality into consideration. Its unique weighting method also results in the data not being comparable with the data collected during the previous years.

Coverage

The target population is private households in all nine provinces of South Africa, and residents in workers' hostels. The survey does not cover other collective living quarters such as students' hostels, old age homes, hospitals, prisons and military barracks.

Definitions of terms

A trip is a journey taken outside the usual environment of the household.

Day trip is a trip during which the respondent or members of the household went for the trip and returned on the same day

Overnight trip is a trip on which the respondent spent one or more nights away from his or her usual environment.

Package trip is a trip in which two or more items are included in the price (e.g. accommodation and transport).

Tourism includes all trips away from one's usual environment, not just holiday/leisure trips. It also includes trips related to business, visiting friends and/or relatives, medical/health, and religious journeys amongst others.

The usual environment is defined as all places within a 40 kilometres radius of the place of usual residence of the respondent, and all places that the respondent visits at least once a week (e.g. going to work), irrespective of the distance from their usual residence.

Period of reference refers to the three months prior to the survey period. For example, for the survey period January 2023, the period of reference would be trips undertaken in October 2022; November 2022 and December 2022.

B	Has ..... stayed here (in this household) for at least four nights on average per week during the last four weeks?
01	= YES
02	= NO
	If "No", ☐ End of interview for this person

Note to users

This question is asked for each person found in the selected dwelling. Those who are not household members (those who haven't spent at least four nights per week) would be eliminated on the second category (2 = No). The instruction in this question is to end the interview with those who have answered 'No' in this question. It is through this question that household members are identified within the selected dwelling.

Universe

Every person who normally resides in this household for at least four nights per week.

Final code list

Gender (SEX)

(@41 1.)

C	Is ..... a male or a female?
01	= MALE
02	= FEMALE

Note to users

This question is asked for each household member, to determine his or her gender. This question, and all consequent questions, are applicable only if there is a 'Yes' answer in the previous question, which determines whether a person is a household member or not. The enumerators are instructed not to assume the gender of the members of the households by just looking at people's names or physical appearances.

Universe

Every person who normally resides in this household at least four nights per week.

In this instance the enumerator is also instructed not to make any conclusions which may be influenced by his observation or the use of people’s names during the interview. This question may seem very sensitive to some respondents especially in this post-apartheid era, but it is really important to find out the composition of the South African population.

Note to users

Derived weight variable:

This weight is a product of the number of trips undertaken by a household member and their individual calibrated weight (cal_abwgt). It applies weights to all the trips that an individual undertook during the reference period, and results in a weighted number of trips undertaken by a particular individual. It can be used if one wants to extrapolate the detailed trip information for the most recent trip to all trips undertaken during a particular reference month. This weight was used for the calculation of total expenditure on trips.

Divide_cal_weight (divided_calwgt) (@466,5 12.6.)

Note to users

Derived weight variable:

This weight was derived by adjusting the calibrated weight (cal_abwgt) by the twelve monthly weight files in the data. This weight is not trip based, but rather population based and should only be used under circumstances where seasonality does not play a role. For example, any analysis using absolute numbers and which relate to the population age, sex etc. should be done using this weight.

Valid range: 4.1666666667 – 2140.204649

Weight (cal_abwgt) (@479,1 12.6.)

Note to users

This weight is a monthly weight. It is the result of weighting the recall data for each data month separately up to the total population of South Africa. Thus all weighted data related to the January recall period will add up to the population total of South Africa, that of February to the total population of South Africa and so on. If the whole dataset for all months are combined and analysed the population total will therefore add up to twelve times the population of South Africa. This weight should always be used if the total number of trips per month needs to be calculated. Most of the analysis in the DTS 2018 release is based on this weight. However, when tables refer to the “most recent trip” only records for which the trip date corresponds with the data month is taken into consideration during analysis.

DERIVED VARIABLES

Survey month (SURVEYMONTH) (@396 7.)

Note to users

Identifies the month in which the household was visited during the enumeration stage.

Derived from:

Survey date (SURVEY_DATE)

Valid range: 01–12
1022022 -1032023

Verified age (VERIFIEDAGE) (@403 3.)

Note to users

This question is asked to find out the ages of the household members. The instruction is to write the years in whole numbers and not in words. Must record age at last birthday or age in completed years. Moreover, these years must be completed, thus if a person is two years and six months, the instruction is to write the two completed years. For infants under one year, the instruction is to write 000.

Universe

Every person who normally resides in this household at least four nights per week.

Valid range: 0 - 116

Age group 1 (AGE_GRP1) (@406 1.)

Note to users

Derived weight variable:

This weight is a product of the number of trips undertaken by a household member and their individual calibrated weight (cal_abwgt). It applies weights to all the trips that an individual undertook during the reference period, and results in a weighted number of trips undertaken by a particular individual. It can be used if one wants to extrapolate the detailed trip information for the most recent trip to all trips undertaken during a particular reference month. This weight was used for the calculation of total expenditure on trips.

Divide_cal_weight (divided_calwgt)

(@525,6 12.6.)

Note to users

Derived weight variable:

This weight was derived by adjusting the calibrated weight (cal_abwgt) by the twelve monthly weight files in the data. This weight is not trip based, but rather population based and should only be used under circumstances where seasonality does not play a role. For example, any analysis using absolute numbers and which relate to the population age, sex etc. should be done using this weight.

Valid range: 4.166666667 – 2140.204649

Weight (cal_abwgt)

(@575,3 12.6.)

Note to users

This weight is a monthly weight. It is the result of weighting the recall data for each data month separately up to the total population of South Africa. Thus all weighted data related to the January recall period will add up to the population total of South Africa, that of February to the total population of South Africa and so on. If the whole dataset for all months are combined and analysed the population total will therefore add up to twelve times the population of South Africa. This weight should always be used if the total number of trips per month needs to be calculated. Most of the analysis in the DTS 2018 release is based on this weight. However, when tables refer to the “most recent trip,” only records for which the trip date corresponds with the data month are taken into consideration during analysis.
